

Governor's Service Awards

Honoring Michigan's Volunteers

It is no secret that ordinary people become extraordinary volunteers in times of need. Now more than ever Michigan citizens are demonstrating the power of volunteerism by lending a helping hand in their community. For this reason, Governor Jennifer Granholm, First Gentleman Daniel Mulhern, and the Michigan Community Service Commission are pleased to announce the 2005 Governor's Service Awards and invite you to nominate an exemplary volunteer.

The Governor's Service Awards honor and celebrate the commendable efforts of Michigan's volunteers. Awards will be given in a variety of categories highlighting the diverse nature of volunteers throughout our great state and will be presented at the Governor's Service Awards dinner, which is being scheduled for Spring 2005 in southeast Michigan.

Award winners and finalists in each award category will be honored at the dinner. In addition, the Governor's Volunteer Service Honor Roll will be named and recognized. The Honor Roll participants will be selected from the Governor's Service Awards nominations. For more information visit www.michigan.gov/mcsc.
